

Farewell from the Co-Editors

The final volume of the Journal for Vocational Special Needs Education would not be complete without an acknowledgment of all who have made it possible, especially during these years of independent operation.

To Authors and Readers of the JVSNE,

We would like to thank you for contributing to the success of the JVSNE. Although it saddens us to bring the Journal to close, we are confident that it will live on in your work with students, as well as in the continued growing and sharing of knowledge in this important field.

We sincerely appreciate your active leadership and commitment to the Journal. Your contributions helped build capacity by influencing policies and practices that serve persons with disabilities. We are humbled and inspired by your efforts. Continue your good work--it does make a difference! As best said by Garrison Kellior, "be well, do good work, and keep in touch."

To Members of the JVSNE Editorial Review Board,

You are special. Not only were your reviews technically sophisticated and complete, they were couched in positive and supportive ways, providing detailed alternatives and road maps to authors as they revised and refined their work. Without you, the JVSNE would have been a pale, and much less worthy, shadow of itself. Your dedication was never more evident than your willingness to continue in your editorial review role even after the JVSNE's parent organization ceased to exist, and with it any organizational home or support.

To the JVSNE Managing Editor, John Hodge,

John, volunteers do truly make the world go 'round! We greatly appreciate your unhesitating and continued willingness to make the on-line Journal a reality. Your sustained and timely work throughout the last 2 ½ years was instrumental in the JVSNE's longevity. Thank you!

In closing, we would like to offer you all an Irish blessing:

MAY YOU ALWAYS HAVE WORK FOR YOUR HANDS TO DO.
MAY YOUR POCKETS HOLD ALWAYS A COIN OR TWO.
MAY THE SUN SHINE BRIGHT ON YOUR WINDOWPANE.
MAY THE RAINBOW BE CERTAIN TO FOLLOW EACH RAIN.
MAY THE HAND OF A FRIEND ALWAYS BE NEAR YOU.
AND MAY GOD FILL YOUR HEART WITH GLADNESS TO CHEER YOU.

Until we meet again,

John Gugerty & Kelli Crane
